So what actually I want in a app is:

- Header & Footer as image file
- “+” button and “Generate” button at bottom right, just above footer
- When I tap on “+” button, I can go on selecting medicine like how I mentioned in above pages, but when one medicine is done, again I click on “+” button I can add different medicines, and so on
- Once all medicines and it’s all other component is done, when I click on “Generate” the app will now generate a page where only header at top, footer at bottom, and the prescription with instructions for each in gujarati language in between, nothing else, no notification bar, or any other things from app should be visible at all with control panel which has back and home buttons at bottom of android device also be hidden, so I can take a clean screenshot, for a print.
